Common cybersecurity concerns

Disparate tools

Gap-riddled solution design

Lack of vulnerability understanding

Inexperienced in-house resources

Cost-prohibitive staff augmentation

Level-up Your Resilience

As a Cisco Premier partner, NAKA can help you consolidate your cybersecurity tools to strengthen your security posture and better position your business against sophisticated attacks.

Security operations simplified

Cisco XDR (Extended Detection and Response) is designed to improve your threat detection and response capabilities by enabling security teams to detect and respond to advanced threats more effectively.

Gain visibility and identify threats, regardless of vendor or vector, across your network, cloud, endpoints, email, and applications.

Leverage AI and machine learning to accelerate threat detection and response, and reduce clutter, to act on what truly matters.

Use automation and guided response recommendations to remediate threats confidently and quickly to minimize their impact.

Consolidate all your security tools into a single pane of glass to ensure consistent protection and avoid blind spots.

You can depend on XDR for:

Holistic threat detection

Continuous monitoring

Threat correlation

Compliance assurance

Incident response

Cross-environment visibility
